Among the most important sights of Casablanca is the largest mosque and Islamic cultural center outside Saudi Arabia. The Hassan II Mosque, named for the late King of Morocco, was completed in 1988. It was built with contributions from Moroccans all over the world.

Considérez

If you were planning to go to Casablanca on business, what kinds of information and training would you want to have before going? Think about questions of language, religion, social customs, relations between the sexes, etiquette, work habits, food and drink, and so on.